She has spent thirty-three years working in public, academic and special libraries as a professional librarian.

Partial funding for printing the initial fifteen copies of this reference work has been provided through Boy Scouts of America®.

Cover and title page artwork were created from an image of a "soul effigy" from the gravestone of Mrs. Mary Read, who died in 1770. She was the wife of the late 18th century minister of the Bound Brook Presbyterian Church, Rev. Israel Read.

Notes: It appears that there were at one time, 2 stones in the graveyard with basically the same inscription; one was brown, located at Row 20, Grave 4, probably near the East Street entrance, as noted by Stratford & Stryker on Stryker's John V.T. Ross, 3d card notation; it had the monogram JR in the tympanum and a "3d" notation after the name John V.T. Ross; the other was white, located at Row 19, Grave 20; where the white stone stated "who died" the brown stone stated "who departed this life." "Enlighten'd" per brown stone; "Enlightened" per white stone. This page is an amalgamation of the recordings of two gravestones.

Notes: Interment card filed at the Bound Brook Cemetery office erroneously records her year of death as 1845 and correctly records her interment location as: "Church Yard." Decedent's obituary in the Chronicle [Bound Brook] 27 Dec 1895, incorrectly reports her given name as "Catharine," and reports her death day as Sunday [Dec.22, 1895], and that "her husband, Abram Sebring, was killed in a runaway accident several years ago." Church funeral records and extant monument confirm her correct given name as "Margaret M." Church funeral records indicate a death date of Dec. 24, 1895, but that may have been the funeral date. See also decedent page for ABRM Sebring. Margaret M. Sebring's stone is the newest original extant stone in the graveyard (Wm. McKissack's and Margaret (McDonald) McKissack's replacement stone is newer [1950s]).

Birth Date determined by using the 8870 Formula, a mathematical calculation based on the Death Date and Age at death given in years, months and days. Stone very worn, unable to determine with certainty which Sillcocks stonecutter cut this stone. Based on when different members of the Sillcocks family were actively working in the stonecutting trade, it was very likely Gabriel Sillcocks or James Hull Sillcocks, per John Zielenski (Works Consulted).
